

Ethan Daniel Feldman

Doctor of Chiropractic (USA) California 18790

Licenciatura de Quiropractica (MEX) SEP folio B 396072

Objective

- To treat patients with the highest quality care and attention using an interdisciplinary, comprehensive approach.
- To instruct the next generation of chiropractors, osteopaths, physical therapists and related fields in methods of treatment that are safe, effective and comfortable for the patient and the practitioner.

Professional Profile

- 30 years in private practice. Currently semi-retired in San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, focusing on difficult and chronic cases.
- Current professional focus is on designing curriculum and courses for students and practitioners of Chiropractic, Osteopathy, and Physical Therapy to enable them to have the tools and the clinical perspective to painlessly unwind and restore to normal aberrant neuromusculoskeletal reflex patterns so that the body can return to pain-free, normal function.
- Founder and director of BACK IN ACTION CHIROPRACTIC CENTER in Berkeley, California from 1991 to 2011, a hands-on clinic specializing in comprehensive individualized care for spine, dance and sports related injuries utilizing chiropractic, massage and cranio-sacral techniques and therapists.
- Fluent in Spanish

Education

- D.C. cum laude, LIFE CHIROPRACTIC COLLEGE WEST, Hayward, CA, 1987
- B.S. with distinction, Physical Education major, Adaptive Physical Education minor, SAN JOSE STATE UNIVERSITY, San Jose, CA 1981
- A.A., magna cum laude, DE ANZA COLLEGE, Cupertino, CA, 1978
- 1976-79 Pacific Dance Center, Mountain View, CA (Now San Francisco Academy of Ballet, San Francisco)

Continuing Education Course Work and Specializations

- Teacher's Assistant level in the Jones Institute of Strain/Counterstrain for the following courses: Spine, Extremities, Cranials, TMJ Disorders, and Facilitated Methods
- Dance Injury Management
- Foot Biomechanics and Orthotics Casting

Community Service: Currently teaches children from the surrounding countryside in dance and gymnastic activities in his dance studio, The Nautilus Chamber.